REGINA, 11th Dec.

The assembly opened yesterday. A number of the members have not yet arrived. James Ross was elected speaker. A bill respecting druggists was introduced. The governor's speech does not explain the situation regarding financial control by the assembly, but it has been ascertained to-day that the advisory council has ceased to exist since June 30th, but a new difficulty is hinted at as the governor might obtain another not responsible to the house. A very large majority are strongly opposed to such a course. Standing committee was struck to-day and a large number of bills moved including one regarding sheriffs and clerks of court in Edmonton, Battleford and Medicine Hat. Cayley moved a committee to prepare a license law.

To wit:

By virtue of a Writ of Execution, issued out of the Supreme Court of the Northwest Territories, Northern Alberta Judicial District at the suit of Richard Hardisty and Daniel R. Fraser and to me directed against the lands of Daniel E. Noyes, I have seized and taken into Execution the following Lands, namely:

Being the northeast one quarter (4), and the northwest one quarter (4), of sections twenty-seven (27) in township fifty-three (53), in range twenty-five (25), west of the fourth (4) meridian in the District of Alberta in the Northwest Territories containing by admeasurement three hundred and twenty acres subject to a certain mortgage on said lands given by said Daniel E. Noyes on the 12th day of December, A. D., 1887 for the sum of $1,259.56 to John Brown and Duncan Steele Curry and John Norris and Edward F.

THE EDMONTON BULLETIN is published every Saturday morning, at the office, Main street, Edmonton. Subscription—Two Dollars per annum. FRANK OLIVER, proprietor.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, DEC. 12, 1891.

We publish this week a letter from Mr. W. C. Van Horne, general-manager of the C. P. R. in answer to the letter sent by the farmers of the Edmonton district, re the obtaining of better freight rates to Calgary and British Columbia points. Mr. Van Horne states that the difference in haul as between Regina and Edmonton is really in favor of Regina as the empty cars would have to be hauled a greater distance in going to Edmonton and that consequently Regina is entitled to a better rate than Edmonton. We would draw Mr. Van Horne's attention to the fact that the cars which come into Edmonton loaded on every train return empty and have done so since the road started and if the freight rates remain as at present are likely to continue to do so. Mr. Van Horne disputes the fact that we have a market for our produce in British Columbia, but expressed himself as being willing to do what he can to lower the rate if it can be shown that such market exists. Any of our merchants can prove that this market is not an imaginary one as every mail brings in offers for our produce which under existing circumstances have to be refused:

ON LINE, 25th November, 1891.

DEAR SIR,

I have your letter of the 19th in regard to rates on produce to British Columbia points. I have asked our general traffic manager to look into these rates and to see to what extent they can be reduced without direct loss to the company; but in this connection I would draw your attention to the fact that cars are frequently moved westward to the Pacific coast and that it is enormously to the advantage of the company to load on their way any of these for British Columbia points. You can readily see what a great difference there must be between loading a car that must otherwise go west empty, at Regina, for instance, to Vancouver, as compared with taking that same car empty to Calgary, sending it north to Edmonton and then taking it loaded from Edmonton to Vancouver. The distance from Regina to Vancouver would be 293 miles greater than from Edmonton to Vancouver, but the car would have to be hauled 382 miles less than in the case of Edmonton, and therefore we could afford to make a lower rate from Regina than from Edmonton. I do not think, however, that any rate within reason would enable either Regina or Edmonton to ship any considerable amount of produce to British Columbia, which province is already producing practically all it requires, and with the exception of a very little flour and an occasional shipment of cattle, hardly any produce is likely to go into British Columbia from the eastern provinces. I need hardly remind you that but for the Canadian Pacific company undertaking to work the Calgary & Edmonton railway for six years, that railway would not have been built, and in undertaking to do this the Canadian Pacific company had to face the certainty of a heavy loss, and it can hardly be expected to do anything that will materially increase this loss.

However, if anybody at Edmonton has any wheat or other produce to ship to British Columbia points, and can show that he can find a market for it there at a price that will afford us anything like a reasonable rate, we will do the best we can to help him to take advantage of it, but I feel sure that your market for wheat must be eastward, and we have already made a rate on that within two cents a bushel of the rate from Calgary, a difference which does not begin to pay the extra cost; and this rate is no higher than was paid by the farmers of western Manitoba but a few years ago. This rate is less than 20 cents a bushel for a distance of 1,460 miles over a line where the expense for wages, fuel and nearly everything else is much greater than in eastern Canada and most of the United States. With wheat at 88 cents at Fort William, and allowing the local buyer at Edmonton a margin of 4 cents a bushel, which should be ample, this rate should afford the Edmonton farmer about 64 cents a bushel, and I know that farmers in Iowa, Minnesota and Dakota would be most happy if they could get even 60 cents for their wheat one year with another. I think I am safe in saying that this grain rate from Edmonton to Fort William is much lower than has ever been made by any railway west of the Great Lakes. At all events it does not afford us bare cost and we cannot make it lower until we are able, in some way, to materially reduce our cost of transportation.

Yours truly,
W. C. VAN HORNE.

A FRIGHTFUL outrage is reported from Villagorda, Spain. Some bandits, who had heard that the parish priest in the parish was a well-to-do man, broke into his house in the night. They tied the only servant in the house securely on a bed and seizing the priest told him, with many threats, to point out his wealth. The father, a thrifty man, refused to tell and adjured the bandits not to incur the vengeance of Heaven by interfering with a servant of the church. The bandits were not moved by the appeal, but proceeded calmly to light a fire. They then applied the priest's feet to the fire bringing them nearer and nearer to the flames until the victim shrieked with agony. They told him him they would roast his feet off if he did not tell where his money was. He held out until the skin began to burst and the odor of burning flesh was stifling. The priest, rather than lose his feet, which the bandits said they would consume, to be gradually followed by the rest of his body, at length told them where all he had, amounting to about fifty dollars, was concealed. The bandits took the money and departed. The priest is in a precarious condition.

The international telegram correspondent was informed November 30th on the authority of an official holding a high place in Santiago, that the Chilean government had no intention whatever of offering an apology or indemnity, such as the American president requested, and had no intention of recalling or modifying the reply given to the American request, and that any expectation that president Montt would, in this respect, modify the policy adopted by the Junta was misleading. The president himself, it is said, was the most earnest advocate in the Junta of a defiant retort to the United States and virtually dictated the answer sent to minister Egan. Montt has not changed his views since he exchanged the office of chief of the Junta for that of president and Chile is silent now because there is nothing to be said. Meantime although Montt has recommended a cutting down of the army and navy no steps have been taken to carry out the recommendation and even the volunteers sent back to their homes in the north were told to retain their arms.

THE STORM IN MANITOBA.

In speaking of the snow storm in Manitoba the Free Press says the storm extended from Ignace in the east to Broadview in the west, and south to near St. Paul. Within these extensive limits the railroads were completely blocked. A despatch from Portage la Prairie, dated 5th December, says:—The blockade is still in force here. Last night the storm abated and this morning revealed a unique situation. No blockade was ever felt so much here. Perfect hills of snow have been reared in front of the stores and the scene is romantic to see every merchant with a staff of clerks, in their white shirt sleeves, shovelling snow. Some front windows cannot be seen for snow. The C. P. R. yard contains 125 freight cars, 12 passenger coaches and four dead engines. At ten o'clock the M. & N. W. railway engines, Nos. 7 and 9, were set to work to haul out coaches and the dead engines and in the midst of cheers from an immense gathering of people they butted the snow, and one by one the coaches, and up to the moment of wiring two dead locomotives were thrown over in the M. & N. W. railway yard. When running on top of a box car your correspondent could find only two locomotives, and on search found the other covered in snow up to the smoke stack. Passengers are being cared for by the railway company. It is expected clearance may be made by evening, and sooner if a snow plow should come. The M. & N. W. passenger train will run out west on time. She arrived yesterday only a few minutes late. The Rhode Island locomotives are regular snow birds. Coming in yesterday they went through a bank at Macdonald 400 feet long and 10 feet high throwing the snow with such force as to break windows in the section house and breaking freight car doors on the side track and windows in the general office here.

FROZEN TO DEATH NEAR DELORAIN.

Mrs. John Peddie was found frozen to death yesterday. Her husband brought a load of wheat to market Thursday, 3rd inst., and she, her two sisters and her brother, went to spend the day with Mrs. Dugmore, a neighbor who lived about a mile distant. They left Dugmore's about 5 o'clock to drive home. They were found on Friday morning, near the trail, about 400 yards from Maynard's house, which was on the way home, by her husband, who had gone to bring them home. The children, who are between 7 and 10 years old, had their hands and feet badly frozen. Peddie lives eight miles southeast of Deloraine.

Peru, Indiana, despatch: The most remarkable case on record in this place of a numerous and simultaneous addition to a household occurred the other day at the farm house of Edgar George, of this place. His wife gave birth to four fully developed girls shortly after midnight. After this very extraordinary event Mr. George paid a visit to his barn to see his pedigree Jersey c. w. On entering the place, to his delight, he found twin calves lying snugly ensconced in the straw. He strolled into the woodshed shortly after daylight and found that his house cat was curled up in a barrel with seven little sweet kittens around her, making thirteen newcomers in his house in one night.

Winnipeg Free Press: The order has gone forth from the superintendent of the Pacific division, Canadian Pacific Railway, that the standing regulation of the company, with regard to cars for unloading, is hereafter to be strictly enforced. Consignees receiving goods by train will be required to have the cars emptied within 24 hours after arrival otherwise $2 per day demurrage will be charged. Though this is no new rule with the company it has not been hitherto enforced on the coast. The assigned reason is that every available car will be required to carry Manitoba wheat to market.

The catalogue of books in the Northwest government library has been received. It is a large printed volume and shows that the library contains a very large number of excellent works. The collection of works on the Northwest is particularly good.

The names of captains Boileau and Butcher have been removed from the list of officers of the British army, as a result of an enquiry into the Manipur massacre which occurred on March 28th last.

The corner stone of the new city and county buildings, Toronto, was laid on the 21st inst. The stone was laid by Mayor Clark who gave a sketch of the events leading to the construction of the buildings. Sir Daniel Wilson also spoke.

The MacLeod Gazette wants the assembly session to open in January. Like the Bulletin its remarks were rather subsequent.

The municipalities of Prince Albert and Qu'Appelle are advertising sale of land for arrears of taxes.

INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS REPORT.

EDMONTON, Dec. 7th, 1891.

The same thorough and excellent work as manifested at previous inspection is still being carried on by Mr. Richardson.

Sickness prevailing in the district during part of both terms has interfered with apparent results in the schoolroom work, but, nevertheless, good faithful foundation work has been done by the teacher.

D. G. McQUEEN.
Inspector.

FUNERAL.

On Sunday last, the 6th inst., was laid to rest, in the Edmonton cemetery, Helen, better known as "Tanny," eldest daughter of Major and Mrs. Griesbach, of the Northwest mounted police, who died at Fort Saskatchewan on the 3rd inst., of inflammation of the lungs, after a short and painful illness. She was a bright, pretty girl of 13 who had endeared herself to all who knew her, and was a great favorite with the members of "G" troop. Her sad and premature death has evoked wide spread regret and heartfelt sympathy for the sorrowing parents. Beautiful wreaths and crosses of flowers were offered by the members of the police of Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton, in token of loving remembrance, and the whole troop followed her to the grave. Her illness was borne with gentle and patient resignation and her thoughts were ever to comfort those about her even to the very last. The funeral was attended by the whole country side, and a large and sympathizing gathering of friends surrounded the grave. It is but a few weeks since she visited Winnipeg for the first time and was never quite well after her return.

A HIGHLANDER'S PRAYER.

Good and gracious Providence, bless all the Macdonalds and all the Macdonalds' children for a 1,000 years, lang sine; be gracious pleased to send us rivers of whiskies—the very finest or whiskies—and mountains of potatoos and breads and cheeses, as big as the hill of Strathmore; and, likewise, furthermore, send us floods of water, sa that there may be plenty for man and beast; and moreover, likewise, send us tobaccoos and sneshang as numerous as seas on the sandshore, and swords and pistols to kill the Frants and Macphersons. Oh, yes, blast the Grants for evermore, lang sine. Bless the wee stirk, and mak' him a big coo by next Martinmas; and put the strength of Samson into Douglas; and mak' him able to bring forth kail and corn, and lang kail and corn prodigious. Bless the wee soe, and mak' him the father of big families of soos and pigs. And bless all the baurs, Duncan and Rory and Flora and young Rory, and glorious days furthermore. And, oh, don't forget malediction on the Campbells. O yes, yes, yes.—Amen.
